Transforming the Future of Public Health in Missouri

Diane Weber, RN

Ms. Weber is currently the Executive Director of the Missouri Association of Local Public Health Agencies (MoALPHA). She brings over 30 years' experience in public health and health education.

She served as the Wellness Coordinator for the Visiting Nurse Association of Greater St. Louis for three years. Prior to that, she was the Assistant Executive Director for the Heartland Centers for Public Health and Community Capacity Development.

Ms. Weber has facilitated the strategic planning process for local public health agencies and has coordinated the Public Health Leadership Institute. She has developed and implemented curricula for workshops, conferences, and community based health education projects.

As MoALPHA's Executive Director, she advocates for local public health agencies across the state on training, education, and resource needs.
